Missions to East Must Heed Policy

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. missions in the Far East are under new orders to heed President Nixon's policy of reducing American involvement in Asia, according to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The orders were issued after he had complained to Nixon the missions were not following the new Asian policy outlined by the President at Guam last July. Mansfield said in an interview. The Montana Democrat spent two weeks on a tour of the same Asian countries the President took this summer after being asked by Nixon "to study reactions to his new Asian doctrine." Mansfield returned Aug. 27 and reported to the President at San Clemente, Calif.

Mansfield said his journey to the Philippines, Indonesia, Cambodia, Burma and Laos produced no evidence of a follow up by U.S. missions there.

He said he told Nixon "the concepts, practices and programs by which U.S. missions in Asia have operated for many years remain the same."

But since his conference with Nixon at the Western White House Mansfield said, he understood "instructions have gone out" recalling the President's Guam statement explaining its policy significance.

Mansfield made public Sunday a report on his findings which he said was along the lines of what he told Nixon. The Democratic leader said he described the Republican President's new policy to Asian leaders this way:

"The United States will maintain its treaty commitments, but it is anticipated that Asian nations will be able to handle their own defense problems, perhaps with some outside material assistance but without outside manpower."

From now on, Mansfield told the Asian leaders, U.S. assistance will take the form of cooperative economic help and not military aid. Asian nations, he said, must make their own collective security arrangements.

"The President's new doctrine clearly calls for a contraction of the official U.S. presence in Southeast Asia," Mansfield said.

This Time Any Space Decision Will Most Certainly Be Debated

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When President John F. Kennedy set the United States on course to the moon in 1961, Congress accepted this space goal without debate.

Now the goal has been achieved and this nation has reached an important decision point on where spacefaring Americans should go in the future. President Nixon soon will make his choice, but this time it will be debated—in Congress and across the land.

A national debate already is under way on proposed goals, especially on whether U.S. astronauts should aim for Mars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration welcomes the discussions. Administrator Thomas O. Paine says: "The question of the immediate future of the space program now lies before us. In my view it is a question of pace. The directions are clear. NASA will move ahead on several fronts in a balanced program, including science, applications, exploration and new technology."

"But how vigorously we want to pursue the space program is the question that is now the subject, very properly, of national debate."

Paine was a member of a task force which on Monday submitted to Nixon possible directions for the U.S. space program.

The group gave the President three possible alternatives, with the main differences being the timing for a manned Mars mission.

The first option calls for a manned Mars landing in 1982, the second in 1986 and the third sometime after 1990.

Under the first and most expensive option, NASA would spend a total of $78.2 billion by 1982.

The second alternative would require a total of $57.5 billion by 1980. Option three would cost $54.1 billion in the same period.

Whether Nixon includes a Mars mission in his master plan will depend on the outcome of public debate. But most observers believe he will approve other major task force recommendations. These are to develop a huge multipurpose space station in the mid-1970s and to build a reusable airplane-like shuttle vehicle to service the station.

The initial station would house 6 to 12 men, would increase to 50 men and women by 1980 and to 100 a few years later.

Nixon also is expected to back continued development of the Nerva nuclear rocket, which could be operational in the late 1970s.

The President may hold off a decision on whether to propose a base on the moon or a moon-orbiting space station until after the United States has conducted additional moon landings in the Apollo program. Nine more

Will Demand Open Trial for Berets

By RICHARD H. PYLE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The civilian attorney for two of the Green Beret officers accused of murdering a suspected Vietnamese double agent said today he would demand a "completely open" trial "with all relevant evidence put on the table."

Attorney Henry B. Rothblatt, who arrived today from New York City, also said the defense would call Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, as a witness "if his testimony is relevant to the case."

Rothblatt is an attorney for Maj. David E. Crew of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Capt. Leland J. Brumley of Duncan, Okla.

Brumley and two others are scheduled to go before a general court-martial Oct. 20, but the defense is expected to ask for a postponement. The other three officers are to be tried later, but the charges against them may be dropped if the first three are acquitted.

Rothblatt also represents Chief Warrant Officer Edward Boyle of New York City, one of two men against whom the charges are being held in abeyance reportedly because they may testify for the prosecution.

Rothblatt said he would confer with military attorneys and Boyle before deciding whether to continue to represent the warrant officer. "We want to make sure that all of his legal and constitutional rights will be protected," he said. He added that he did not expect to find himself on both sides of the case.

The attorney said he expects the Special Forces officers to be exonerated of the murder and conspiracy charges.

"We certainly have no fear as long as we don't get a Royce Bean, law-west-of-the-Pentagon sort of trial," he said, referring to a Texas frontier judge.

Rothblatt said that if the Army cannot provide a "fair and impartial jury," the defense attorneys may petition for the trial to be moved into a civilian court.

He said the defense will insist on an open trial with "full and complete disclosure" of all the facts. He said this would include information that might be furnished by the Central Intelligence Agency, which some sources say ordered the execution of the alleged double agent.

Military officials have said that portions of the trial dealing with security information might be closed.

landings of two-men teams have been funded for the next three years, with each visiting a different area of the moon.

The United States spent a total of $21.1 billion on operations leading up to the Apollo 11 moon landing in July. That price tag included all flights in the Mercury and Gemini programs, the unmanned moon explorers like the surveyors and lunar orbiters and construction of launch facilities.

It also included most of the hardware for the follow-on Apollo flights. Thus, the total cost of nine additional Apollo man-on-the-moon landings will be $3.9 billion—or about $433 million each.

NASA sees the earth-orbiting space station as offering the best hope for economic return on this investment. It could serve as an observation platform for weathermen, astronomers or geologists searching for earth's hidden riches. Scientists cite the attractions to medical men, biologists and engineers to conduct experiments in a true vacuum and in weightlessness.

The station also could serve as an orbiting platform for military missions. Astronauts could conduct daily reconnaissance over every part of the globe, spotting missile bases, aircraft, submarines and troop movements.

The station would have commercial applications. Insurance companies which pay storm damages might support improved weather forecasting. Oil companies might finance exploration by trained geologists aboard the platform. Owners of timber might pay for forest fire observation. Farm organizations might support surveillance of crop disease, weather forecasts and a search for arable land.

Even with this outside monetary help, NASA estimates that with present space vehicles, the one-year cost of operating a 50-to-100-man space station would be well over $1 billion.

Thunderbird for 1970 presents a bold new look, highlighted by a dramatic front end design. All models feature a longer, lower hood and three section extruded aluminum grille for a more formal appearance. Included in the Special Brougham option group, shown here on the Thunderbird two-door Landau, are such features as grille lamps, color-keyed wheel covers and high-back bucket seats. Thunderbirds also have hidden windshield wipers and hidden radio antennas to emphasize the clean design.

Built for quiet inside and out, Ford's luxurious new 1970 LTD Brougham is offered in four-door hardtop (top), two-door hardtop (bottom) and four-door sedan models. The 1970 Fords all feature new rear and side ornamentation, new exterior colors, plus new, more formal grilles.

TEA HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Rachael Andress Batson, bride-elect of Roger Eugene Nunn, was honored with an afternoon tea Saturday, September 20 in the Talbot Field home. Hostesses were Mrs. H.A. Spraggins, Mrs. Jim R. Andress, Mrs. Olen Overturf, Mrs. Earl Downs, Mrs. Clarence Geist, Mrs. Talbot Field, Jr., and Miss Cathy Field.

Mrs. Spraggins greeted the guests at the door, and Mrs. Field introduced them to the receiving line. There, they met the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Charles Batson, her fiancé's mother, Mrs. James Munn of Little Rock, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. W.K. Andress of Magnolia. Miss Batson attired in beige and brown, had a bronze corsage. Mrs. Batson had a pink corsage, Mrs. Nunn a white one and Mrs. Andress wore yellow flowers.

An imported white cut-work cloth covered the dining table, where silver appointments were used. Pink carnations and stocks with pink candles centered the table, and frosted punch, cake squares, nuts and mints were served.

Bronze mums were worn by members of the house party, who included: Mrs. Douglas Drake; Mrs. Charles Crain, Magnolia; Mrs. Julius Brown, Pine Bluff; and Mrs. Junior Hargis.

Misses Cathy Field and Debbie Watson presided at the bride's book, which was placed on a table marked with a memory candle that, later, was given to the honoree. The hostesses also presented a gift of silver to Miss Batson.

During the appointed hours 75 guests called.

25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

MR. and MRS. OLEN OVERTURF On August 24 Mr. and Mrs. Olen Overturf held open house at their home in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Over two hundred called between the appointed hours of two to five o'clock.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Dean Murphy, Mrs. Charles Batson, Mrs. Carter Russell, Mrs. Wesley Huddleston, Mrs. Calvin Smith, Mrs. Bill Gunter, Mrs. Barry Brown and Mrs. Bob Westbrook of Hope; Mrs. Aliene Grisham of Bodcaw; Mrs. Billy Charles Rye and Mrs. Bill Rye of Russellville; Mrs. Jack Robinson of Hooks, Texas; Mrs. Carl Heavener and Mrs. John Ed Hughes of Mena, Ark; and Mrs. Garland Urey of Pineville, La.

Those attending from out of town were: Mrs. Lamar Clay and Linda, Springdale, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson and Janet of Hooks, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. R.M. Harrison of Texarkana; Mrs. Bill Rye, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Charles Rye and Chip of Russellville, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross of Magnolia; John W. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heavener and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMillan, Mrs. H. M. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Hughes of Mena, Ark. Rev. and Mrs. Claud Hughes and Lynn, Felslon Neuburn Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane of Monroe, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Moss Rowe, Mrs. A.M. Hulsey, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Penigar and Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Hulsey of Washington, Ark.; Miss Lillian Rector, Mr. and Mrs. George Rector, Ed and Kent, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Huggs of Little Rock.

OEO HEARS BROADWAY HITS

A program of songs from Broadway hits was presented by Miss Colleen Coffee, of Shreveport accompanied by Luther Holiamon at the piano, on Thursday, September 18 in the Masonic Hall, when Chapter 328, Order of the Eastern Star, honored Mrs. Bobby Murphy, who was a delegate to a meeting of the O.E.S. in Florida last April.

After a ritual was carried out by the members, Miss Coffee was introduced, and a most enjoyable group of selections from "South Pacific," "West Side Story," and "The Sound of Music" was sung by the guest, who is a member of the Port Players of Shreveport.

Miss Coffee, a native of Hope, has performed with Little Theatre groups in Florida, Georgia and Shreveport, and she has a sparkling personality that adds much to her presentation. The group of 40 enjoyed delightful refreshments served by the Chapter members after the program.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

When a local Friday Bridge Club met in the home of Mrs. M.M. McCloughan on September 19, the players included three guests, Mrs. Marie Hendrix, Mrs. Rob Jones, and Mrs. Roy Wilson.

High scorers for the afternoon were Mrs. Hendrix and Mrs. Mildred Rogers. The hostess served a salad plate and coffee.

R.C. Lehman and Mary K. have returned home from St. Louis, where they enjoyed several big league baseball games.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Scoggins and family, Minden, La., were the weekend guests of her father, Joe Downs.

Family Meets for the Very First Time

GARY, Minn. (AP) — Seven brothers and six sisters, ranging in age from 57 to 78, gathered here Sunday for the first time they had been together at the same time.

They are the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Kiltie, who immigrated from Scotland in 1895 with the three oldest children.

"When the oldest was 21, the youngest hadn't been born and the family started getting married and moving away from the old homestead, said Mrs. Earl Davis, 64, of Crookston, one of the six Kiltie sisters.

Three of the brothers, Sam, 70, David, 65, and William, 64, still live in this tiny northwestern Minnesota community.

Other family members are James, 78, Jamestown, N.D.; Mrs. Jeanie Holmvik, 76, Crookston; Mrs. George Mork, 75, Wannaska, Minn.; Mrs. Cyrus Gullekson, 73, Minneapolis; Mrs. Mina Gullekson, 72, Wapato, Wash.; Robert, 69, Deer River; Alec, 67, Miles City, Mont.; Mrs. John Davis, 58, Duluth; and Mac, 57, Aurora, Colo.

AH, THE UNJUSTICE OF IT ALL!

Dear Helen: Have you ever noted life's little inconsistencies? Why is it for example, when Mama takes a nap or goes to bed extra early, she's just plain lazy and unsociable, a real party-pooper, sans party? Why is it, for example, when Mama takes a nap or goes to bed extra early, she's just plain lazy and unsociable, a real party-pooper, sans party?

BUT if Papa takes a nap or retires early, he's simply taking care of himself, just taking a breather, which is plain common sense since he feels tired. When Mom goes to bed early she sneaks off without saying "Good Night," to avoid those sarcastic remarks about "people who spend half their lives sleeping". When the man of the house hits the sack early, does he feel guilty? Heck No! You're supposed to feel sorry for him because he works so hard.

Now I ask you, Helen, why?? —DOROTHY

Dear Dorothy: Maybe for the same general reason that when a man whips up a meat-and-vegetables dish it's a gourmet's delight and the family must bow down in worship; but when Mama cooks the same thing, it's "Ye gods, not stew again!" —H.

Dear Helen: In my neighborhood, there are a couple of women who have parties and different men spend the night. Our children, seven and nine, are asking many questions. How am I to explain to them what type of women they are? —CONCERNED PARENT

Dear Concerned: Answer your children's questions with truth which neither shields nor condemns your neighbors. And be sure you don't INSPIRE those questions by shocked discussions at home! —H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWMY

AP Television-Radio Writer. NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Allen had a highly unusual guest spot in his CBS comedy special Sunday. The Rev. Billy Graham at down with the star, and while Woody as questioner and straight man tried to keep things on the light side, the evangelist managed to deliver a number of serious capsule sermons.

It was different but it didn't work out very comfortably. Woody in particular came off sounding sacreligious and fresh. But the rest of the hour was interesting and bright.

Allen and Candace Bergen took on the current vogue for nude acting in one funny sketch. They topped it with a simulation of an old silent film in which Woody, looking like a cross between Harold Lloyd and Buster Keaton, played a street cleaner and Candace was a rich girl who fell for him.

Weakest sketch was a long one with Candace playing a stupid girl being tutored by a 94-year-old sage who was Woody in a long black beard. The Fifth Dimension, an excellent singing group, turned up for a couple of numbers.

The first lawyer segment of NBC's "The Bold Ones" was a fast-moving and well-produced story about a frame-up. It showed how an over-zealous police officer, hamstrung by new Supreme Court rulings, arranged some evidence to fit some facts that he had misread. Regular James Farentino and Joseph Campanella, playing italized is, I assume, your kind's slanderous way of describing "White Anglo-Saxon Protestant."

You owe this great group of people an apology, and if it does not appear immediately in your column, I shall turn a copy of this letter over to the editor. I am not signing my name as I do not want it in your files.

There is a minority group asserting itself in this country—and I do not refer to the Negro—who vilify anyone who does not agree with their idiotic ideas. Your little stab in the back is an excellent example.

For your information, Anglo-Saxon Protestants founded this country and brought it, through their honesty, hard work, initiative and intelligence, to its present position of leadership.

By contrast, your minority group (Note from H: Mine? Who says?) advocates pornography, filthy plays, topless waitresses and free speech. You had better read history and profit thereby or you are destined to relive it. —CITIZEN FOR MORALITY

Dear Citizen: . . . And she jumped on her conclusions and rode off in all directions! Look, dear, I too am a WASP, but not quite so waspish as you. —H.

lawyer brothers, had most of the action—a chase, a little fist flinging and a lot of harsh, tough words.

The new "Andy Williams Show" on NBC Saturday had Petula Clark, Don Ho, some lavish production numbers and lots and lots of singing. It also had an audience seated on bleachers that moved around the area of action.

Although it was all very pleasant, it seemed to be slow-moving and bland.

"Bracken's World" in its NBC debut Friday night fulfilled its promise to take viewers behind the scenes in a Hollywood studio. The sequences showing film work in progress on sets were valid and interesting.

It had been suggested that the series would be a form of soap opera. The first episode concentrated on introducing the characters in the extra-large cast of regulars. The story centered on a director with an alcoholic wife and a yen for a blonde starlet. It seemed less soap opera than the stuff fan magazines are made of.

Coach Has His Fingers Crossed

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Last year, after Hope had whipped the DeQueen Leopards 30-7 for our first victory, Bobcat Coach Ronnie Higgins started off his Smackover scouting report by saying, "We are winners now. Let's stay that way."

That was in 1968, and the Cats did not remain a winning football team while compiling a 4-7-1 record.

Now, after convincing victories of 27-0 over Prescott and 28-0 over DeQueen on successive weeks Higgins has his fingers crossed as his forces prepare to face the Smackover Battlin' Buckaroos at Hammons Stadium this Friday.

Both teams have 2-1 records. Hope lost its opener to Ashdown 14-6, and the Bucks were whitewashed 34-0 by Fairview last Thursday night after beating Bearden 25-0 and Norphlet 19-0.

The hope around here is that the Bobcats have become firmly enough entrenched in their winning ways to survive Smackover the first 4-AA opponent on the schedule after three 7-A schools.

Confidence was apparent in the Cats' manner as they ran off the 28-0 romp at DeQueen, with the lesser experienced players making up for their errors in hustle and the leaders maintaining a fine edge of enthusiasm. They appreciated the large local following too, and the new cannon has really boomed the fans' spirit at the right times.

And tailback Artis Martin went over the 100-yard mark in rushing for the third week, making his totals now 365 yards on 56 carries for well over a six-yard average. He is also the leading scorer in 4-AA with 36 points, half of which came in his three scores at DeQueen.

With his running style, combining tremendous balance with a powerful burst for daylight and running room, Artis has established himself already in the headlines of the state. One source called him "Arkansas' answer to O.J. Simpson", but an even better comparison would be to note the similarity in his style with the great Gayle Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

This is no exaggeration, but Artis Martin still would not gain many yards without the initial blocks he gets from the line and fullback Gary Jones. They are the key to his getting into the open field, where the moves and agility come into the picture. He is really something to watch when he is right, and Hope fans should be out in droves to see him and the rest of the offense click against Smackover.

Junior quarterback Ronnie Massanelli is becoming more impressive each week with his passing arm, which now only lacks the complete confidence in receivers' running the right routes. Ronnie has passed when he had to pass, and when the run presented itself against Prescott he was equal to the task and carried for 71 yards.

At DeQueen, Massanelli hit David Still for a 46-yard TD bomb, and connected with Lee Davis for a 38-yard play on a night when the running game was plenty enough to satisfy the team's needs. He also threw to Still for a two-point conversion, after the original call had busted and the defense had closed him in near the sidelines.

A pleasant surprise, though the coaching staff expected it, was the play of senior 200-pounder Glen Rook at defensive tackle. Glen started in place of the injured Jim Alford, who dressed out but wouldn't have played unless the situation demanded it, and did a fine job of clogging up the defensive left side and rushing the passer.

Noseman Calvin Willis also came into his own, making several unassisted tackles and frequently harassing quarterback Larry Miller of DeQueen. The 175-pound junior is a natural leader, and he is a fierce competitor.

Of course, linebackers Steve Harris and Larry McWilliams turned in the usual excellent job, but also in the category was defensive end Ronny Brown. Brown, besides intercepting a pass, passed quite a few bone-crushing licks while single-handedly thwarting Leopard outside threat Twaunt Wilson and keeping the passer in fear of his presence.

Smackover will be tough as they always are, and they have beaten Hope the last two years by scores of 8-0 and 13-6. In both cases lackadaisical play was the Bobcats' downfall, but hopefully that emotion has been eliminated in 1969.

Tonight the Hope "B" Lizards journey to Nashville to face the Scraper Jayvees at 7:30 p.m. The Lizards have lost twice to Magnolia (10-0) and Camden (20-6), but after seeing action against DeQueen may have added to their confidence enough to pull off a win.

And on Thursday evening the exciting Yenger Junior High Bobkittens host Arkadelphia for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff. Both teams are undefeated and 2-0, and Arkadelphia hasn't lost in four years, so it shapes up to be a real treat for local fans.

Hog Defense Gets Credit for Victory

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Frank Broyles could see right through the awesome offensive statistics piled up Saturday by his Arkansas Razorbacks.

He knew the defense deserved a large part of the credit for the Razorbacks' 39-0 victory over Oklahoma State University.

"Our defense was magnificent," he said. "It took up where it left off last year."

"We established our defense and when you have a strong defense, your offense will have a glorious opportunity to score," Broyles said. "We shut their running game down and when you do, you'll do a much better job on their passing. If they can run and pass then you don't know what they're going to do."

The Razorbacks' swarming defense, a collection of 11 quick, knowledgeable football players, stopped OSU with minus 19 yards rushing, an Arkansas record.

OSU got possession of the football three times in Arkansas territory in the second period on a fumble, an interception and a punt return.

"They could have scored three touchdowns," said Broyles. "We stopped them and this was the difference in the game."

Before the season, Broyles had said the defense would have to take the pressure off the young offensive line.

However, Broyles seemed pleased with the offensive line which knocked large holes in the OSU defense. Arkansas made 349 yards rushing and the two starting running backs, Bill Burnett and Bruce Maxwell, averaged six yards per try on their 31 attempts.

"The teams that win are the teams that score inside the 10, move the ball off their own goal line and make the third down and short yardage plays to keep possession," said Broyles. "I think the offensive line showed they were there in the spring and in September working hard to establish the running game."

Burnett, who gained 119 yards on 19 carries, said the offensive line was "really blowing them out."

"It seemed like every time I didn't make a lot of yardage it was because I made the wrong cut," Burnett said. "That bunch did a tremendous job."

Broyles, however, was already worrying about the second-ranked Razorbacks' meeting with Tulsa Saturday at Fayetteville.

"We won, he said, "but we've got a lot of talking points when we look at the films. We've got a lot of things to work on."

High Echelon Apparently in Good Hands

At least one son of Native Charger, High Echelon, is in good hands—those of John Rotz, who won the Flamingo and Florida Derby aboard Native Charger some years ago and now has scored with High Echelon in the Futurity.

High Echelon, a roan colt from the first crop of Native Charger whom Rotz also owns a share of, closed on the outside Saturday to beat Joseph M. Roebeling's Teepee Ring's by a head in the 6 1/2-furlong test for 2-year-olds at Belmont Park, with Wheatley Stable's Irish Castle third.

The victory, the second in 15 starts and first in a stakes, was worth $92,807 from a gross purse of $149,780 to High Echelon, who rewarded his backers with a winning mutual payoff of $12.80.

Cragwood Stable's Hawaii made himself a leading prospect for two major turf races, the Man o'War and the Washington, D.C., International, by winning the $55,900 Sunrise Handicap at Atlantic City.

Hawaii paid $3.40 in winning his fifth race, including the United Nations Handicap, in eight starts in this country this year.

AIC Teams Lose to Out of Staters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Henderson, Arkansas Tech and Arkansas A&M, the preseason favorites in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, found out Saturday night how the other half lives. All three lost to out-of-state teams. Mississippi College best Henderson 21-20, East Central Oklahoma clobbered A&M 47-14 and Northeast Oklahoma belted Tech 48-7. A&M and Tech meet Saturday night at Russellville in the first showdown of the young season. Two other AIC teams also lost to out-of-state opponents. Florence, Ala., blanked State College of Arkansas 26-0 and Livingston, Ala., put down Southern State 27-19. In other action, Ouachita beat Southeast Oklahoma 23-9 and Harding broke into the winners circle with a 23-21 victory over Southwestern of Kansas. Andy Sumrall passed for a touchdown and two-point conversion with 37 seconds left that gave Mississippi College the victory over Henderson. The Reddies were in excellent position until a bad snap from center on a punting situation gave the Choctaws the ball on the Henderson 14 with about a minute left. Northeast Oklahoma scored three touchdowns in three minutes of the second period and buried Tech. The scoring burst gave NE Oklahoma a 35-7 halftime lead. East Central Oklahoma broke a scoreless tie with two touchdowns during the final 55 seconds of the first half on its way to the victory over A&M. Southern State was behind 27-0 before Livingston put in the reserves in the fourth period. Florence, Ala., scored 23 points in the third period to break away from SCA. Tailback John Wayne Cunningham rushed for 115 yards and scored a touchdown on a 30-yard run in the fourth period to spark Ouachita. The Tigers' other touchdowns came on a 49-yard pass from Barry Bennett to Doug Freeze and a 74-yard punt return by Cliff Harris. Jim Duncan's 37-yard field goal with 1:18 left lifted Harding past Southwestern.

BERRY'S WORLD

© 1969 by NEA, Inc.

"Look—let's win the World Series—THEN worry about our 'identity crisis'!"

Forgiving Sport

It has been said that what separates college football from professional football is an intangible quality called spirit. Professional spirit is heavy and mercenary. College spirit is sporting and forgiving. Take that fine Carnegie Tech team of 1938, for example. The Tartans were unbeaten and playing Notre Dame in a national showdown. Tech had the ball near midfield and, after a running play, its captain approached the referee. "What down is coming up?" he asked. "Third down," the official said. Carnegie Tech ran another play without success and returned to its huddle to plot punting strategy. Looking up, the team saw Notre Dame's center over the ball. The referee had been wrong. It had been fourth down. Much debate followed. Notre Dame immediately scored the game's only touchdown to hand the Techmen their only defeat of the season. Later, after the Tartans had received a Sugar Bowl bid anyway, the school decided to show it held no ill feelings toward the referee and listed him as one of their selections to officiate the bowl game. Carnegie Tech lost again.

Hogs, Texas, Tech, Rice Victorious

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas Tech, a thorn in the University of Texas' side the past two years, finds out if its new offense is the real thing this week when the Raiders tangle with the 'Horns to kick off the Southwest Conference championship race.

After struggling through a fruitless first half with its new pro set offense, the Raiders caught fire in the second half to breeze past Kansas 38-22 in its intersectional opener Saturday. Texas, the preseason SWC favorite, displayed a handsome ground attack in rolling over California 17-0 in its season opener Saturday to bring both clubs into the conference fight with 1-0 records.

Tech, which led the conference in defense last season, has been the spoiler on the UT schedule the last two seasons. Last year, Tech whipped the Cotton Bowl bound Longhorns 31-22.

While Tech and Texas open league warfare, the rest of the conference continues intersection play.

Baylor is at Georgia Tech; Rice is at Louisiana State; Southern Methodist is at Michigan State; Texas A&M is at Nebraska; Texas Christian is at Ohio State; and Tulsa is at Arkansas.

The SWC came out 4-4 in intersectional games last Saturday. Victories other than Texas and Texas Tech included Rice over Virginia Military 55-0 and Arkansas over Oklahoma State 39-0.

The conference defeats were Louisiana State 35, Texas A&M 6; Purdue 42, TCU 35; Georgia Tech 24, SMU 21; and Kansas State 48, Baylor 15.

The Rice Owls, winless through last season, provided the big shocker in the rout of hapless VMI. And to make it more unusual, sophomores did all the scoring. To more quarterbacks Stahl Vincent and Philip took turns serving up touchdowns for the win-hungry Rice fans. Wood passed for one touchdown and ran for another and Vincent passed for two touchdowns and picked up valuable yardage with sweeps.

SMU, the same late-surging team that shot from behind to win last season, failed for the second week to turn the trick in 1969 against Georgia Tech.

The Ponies rolled up another massive array of passing statistics with junior Chuck Hixson completing 26 passes for 270 yards.

But in the end it was Georgia Tech quarterback Charlie Dudish who plunged over from the one with the winning touchdown to make the Mustangs 0-2.

New Baylor coach Bill Beall got a rude welcome to the SWC

ASU Opens Grid Season With a Win

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback James Hamilton, who guided Arkansas State University to the Southland Conference title last year, threw three touchdown passes and scored once Saturday night as ASU opened its season with a 53-20 victory over Eastern New Mexico.

Hamilton tossed touchdown passes of 80 and 24 yards to split end Joe Waleszon and 31 yards to fullback Marshall Walls. Hamilton ran six yards for another touchdown.

Hamilton wound up completing 10 of 22 passes for 277 yards.

ASU led 25-9 at the half and expanded the margin to 32-0 in the third quarter.

as Kansas State, winner of only three games last season, rammed the ball right down the Bears' throats for 312 yards overland. Baylor managed 137 yards in total offense.

The LSU Tigers made it 10 in a row over the Texas Aggies, a sophomore dominated team with an inexperienced quarterback. LSU jumped to a 14-0 halftime lead and added 21 more points in the third period before A&M finally could get on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter.

The lone Aggie score was a seven-yard pass from quarterback Rocky Self to Ross Brubacher.

TCU bounced back after trailing 35-7 in the third quarter but waited too late. Sophomore quarterback Steve Judy spearheaded the rally, passing for two touchdowns. Linzy Cole got another score on a 70-yard punt return.

Tiner Big Gun in Victory for Diamonds

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Tiner threw two touchdown passes to spark the Arkansas Diamonds to a 16-2 Continental Football League victory over the Texarkana Titans here Saturday night.

Tiner tossed a 28-yard touchdown pass to Tommy Burnett in the second period and hit Don Thone on a nine-yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter.

Rams Figure They Played Best Game

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
"This was the biggest game of my career," said Deacon Jones, who has played in some big ones. "We went out and hit. We knocked hell out of 'em."

The defensive Colliath of the Los Angeles Rams expressed the sentiment of most of his teammates and of Coach George Allen after the Rams stunned Baltimore 27-20 in Sunday's National Football League opener.

Allen said the game was the biggest in his three years with the Rams, bigger even than Los Angeles' 34-10 victory over Baltimore for the conference title in 1967.

"It was the biggest because the odds were against us," said Allen. "He gave us a chance." In other surprises, the New York Giants stopped Minnesota 24-23, Pittsburgh beat Detroit 16-13 and Atlanta whipped San Francisco 24-12. In other games, Dallas whipped St. Louis 24-3, Green Bay blanked Chicago 17-0, Cleveland stopped Philadelphia 27-20, and Washington turned back New Orleans 26-20 in a successful debut for Redskins Coach Vince Lombardi.

In the American Football League, Kansas City overpowered Boston 31-0, Denver upset the New York Jets 21-19, Houston beat Buffalo 17-3 and Cincinnati nati surprised San Diego 34-20, Oakland ripped Miami 20-17 in a Saturday night game.

Baltimore Coach Don Shula pinned the defeat—only the second in the defending NFL champs' last 15 home openers—largely on two fumbles and three interceptions of John Unitas passes, although he said a lot of things weren't his quarterback's fault.

With the score tied 17-17 in the third quarter, Rams safety Ed Meador picked off a Unitas pass and returned it 24 yards to the Baltimore 11. Bruce Gossett's 15-yard field goal put the Rams ahead 20-17.

In the final quarter, Baltimore's Preston Pearson fumbled Pat Studstill's punt and Rams rookie Bob Klein recovered at the Baltimore 16. Two plays later, quarterback Roman Gabriel increased the Rams' lead to 27-17 with his third touchdown pass to Wednell Tucker.

Unitas, who said his chronic sore elbow didn't hurt him, threatened to wipe out the deficit in the final minutes, but he was plagued by incompletions and an interception and the Colts had to settle for a 41-yard field goal by Lou Michaels.

The Giants' victory over the Vikings, last year's Central Division champs, marked an auspicious debut for new head Coach Alex Webster, who said before the game, "We don't know how good we are and I want to find out fast."

Trailing 23-10 on two touchdowns passes by Gary Cuozzo and three field goals by Fred

Car, Webster found out in the final five minutes when the Colts started to move.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton hit rookie Don Hermanson with a 15-yard scoring pass, a fumble by Gene Washington recovered on the Vikings' 35 by Ralph Heck set up the winning opportunity. Tarkenton's 33-yard desperation pass bounced off Earl Mackbee, a Viking defender, into the hands of Dutch Wilton on the 10. Tarkenton then hit Hermanson in the end zone for the winner.

Rookie Warren Bankston scored the winning touchdown from the six for Pittsburgh with three minutes remaining. The Lions had grabbed a 13-0 lead two minutes before when quarterback Bill Manton hit on a 12-yard pass to Earl McCulloch after the Lions recovered a Bankston fumble on the Steelers' seven.

Quarterback Bob Berry paced Atlanta with two touchdown passes to tight end Jim Mitchell. Atlanta widened the cushion to three touchdowns early in the fourth period on rookie Paul Clipson's nine-yard run. The 49ers tallied a safety, a field goal, and, in the last nine minutes, a touchdown.

Rookies starred for Dallas. Quarterback Roger Staubach tossed a 75-yard scoring bomb to Lance Rentzel in the opening period and running back Calvin Hill stunned the Cardinals with a 53-yard touchdown pass to Rentzel in the third. The Cowboys' famed Doomsday Defense limited the Cardinals to a 30-yard field goal.

Chief Declares He's Trying to Protect Newsmen

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Police Chief Marvin Gunn of Forrest City says he is doing all he can to protect newsmen assigned to cover the city's racial problems, but that he is hampered by his small police force.

Gunn said Saturday the main problem was that he didn't have enough men to watch the entire city. But he said it would be helpful if newsmen would let him know when they are going out to cover a story in Forrest City and he would assign a patrol car to the vicinity they are going.

Sigma Delta Chi, the society of journalists, adopted a resolution Friday night seeking a Justice Department investigation into recent attacks on newsmen in Forrest City.

Although some of those who have been attacked have said police officers stood by without doing anything, Gunn said he knew of no case in which this happened. He also said he had not declined protection for any newsmen who asked for it.

Gunn said some stories involving newsmen had been distorted. For instance, he said, it had been reported that tires on a car driven to Forrest City by National Broadcasting Co. personnel had been slashed when actually the air had been let out of the tires.

The chief said that after the tires were pumped up, the NBC crew continued its coverage with a squad car assigned to it.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said at a news conference Friday that he would take steps to provide protection for newsmen in Forrest City if local authorities did not and suggested that news executives contact Gunn to determine his position.

If Gunn would not promise protection, the governor said, he would assign state troopers to accompany newsmen under certain conditions.

Newsmen have been ha-passed or roughed up in Forrest City since last month. The latest incidents were Thursday when footballs were thrown at the NBC crew by whites and when Bob Gilmarin of Little Rock television station KATV reported that he was cursed and threatened and the film in his camera exposed.

A day earlier, Mrs. Sue Saunders, 31, of Forrest City, who reports for the Arkansas Gazette, told officers she was attacked by a white woman who was one of a group of persons picketing the Forrest City Junior-Senior High School complex.

Mrs. Saunders swore out a warrant Friday against Elouise Johnson on an assault and battery charge. Gunn said Mrs. Johnson was arrested on the warrant and she posted $62 bond.

The police chief said Mrs. Saunders told him she had seen a police car in the vicinity at the time of the attack and that it was gone when she escaped from her attackers.

Hawkins And Pilot Are Doing Well

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff Martin Hawkins of Conway County, who was injured Saturday in the crash of a light plane, and the pilot of the aircraft were in satisfactory condition Sunday.

Bill Jones, the pilot, of Perry was transferred from a Morriton hospital to a Little Rock hospital Saturday, but was taken out of intensive care Sunday.

The single-engine plane crashed Saturday after striking a power line. Officers said it fell onto the median of Interstate 40 in Conway County near the Menifee exchange.

Hawkins and Jones had been participating in Hawkins' safety program to reduce auto accidents on I-40 and on a stretch of U.S. 64 that is used as a bypass of an unopened section of the interstate route.

Disputes to Mark Labor Union Meet

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — AFL-CIO construction unions opened their convention today under a heavy barrage of charges of racial discrimination and inflationary wage hikes.

Both federal officials and civil rights groups have demanded the 17 unions of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department move faster to take in more Negroes.

The dispute has sparked noisy demonstrations by black militants and counter-demonstrations by angry union members in some cities.

And top government economists, including Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz, also blame the construction unions for worsening the nation's steepest inflationary spiral in 18 years by demands that have pushed wages for skilled men as high as $10 an hour in some areas.

The blunt-spoken Building Trades leaders plan to fire right back—blaming President Nixon for slashing job opportunities by a big cutback in federal construction, denouncing a government racial hiring plan as illegal and insisting on higher wages to offset inflation and job layoffs.

"If we don't have the work for them, we can't very well put them on and train them," said President C. J. Haggerty of the Building Trades Department of the effect of Nixon's construction cutback on efforts to take in more Negroes.

The construction unions control most jobs in the industry through their apprenticeship programs, the main route to hiring.

Union officials also prepared resolutions denouncing Shultz's "Philadelphia Plan" that would require contractors on federal projects to hire a certain percentage of Negroes and other minority group workers.

Shultz has said the Philadel-

ONE DIVIDED BY THREE equals greater capacity. It's computer magic in the growing world of miniaturization. The standard IBM punched card has undergone its first major change in 80 years. Three of the small cards, which together are about the same size as one of the standard ones, can accommodate nearly four times as much information. Using the small card, the large stack of records can be recorded and stored in the same space required to hold the smaller pile with the older card.

phia Plan will serve as a model for a later nationwide program for minority groups. He said the number of Negroes in skilled union jobs in Philadelphia was "deplorably low"—only about 2 per cent.

The unions say the plan is a quota system that would violate federal civil rights law.

An Associated Press study based on Labor Department figures showed the construction unions have increased minority group apprentices from an estimated 2 per cent two years ago to about 7.2 per cent now, including 4 per cent Negroes.

Black militants who sparked demonstrations in Chicago and Pittsburgh are demanding swifter integration to give them union construction jobs in proportion to the Negro population—about 12 per cent nationally.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who will open the 13.6 million member labor federation's main convention here next week, has conceded the construction unions once banned Negroes, but said the doors are now open.

Motion Made to Dismiss Racial Case

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — A motion has been filed in Municipal Court at Forrest City asking that the conviction of five persons for unlawful assembly after a disturbance in the St. Francis County Jail be thrown out.

Municipal Court Judge O. H. Hargraves convicted the five, including Eddie Tate, a member of the Memphis black militant group known as the Invaders, Sept. 8.

Jack Lavey of Little Rock, attorney for the five, contends in the motion that their trial should be declared a mistrial because they had been on trial for inciting to riot and not unlawful assembly. The motion claims it is unconstitutional to convict a defendant on a charge different from the one on which he is tried.

1970 Hemi-Cuda.

This year, there are 10 new Barracudas. And we've changed the looks substantially. (We've packed a 426 Hemi engine under a "Shaker" hood on one of them and called it the Hemi-Cuda.)

However you look at it, our Barracuda is all-new. We've moved it two inches closer to the ground. Pushed the wheels farther apart on our standard torsion-bar suspension. Put a tough optional bumper on the front that comes in most paint colors. And given the interior the design and comfort of a jet cockpit.

If you want a car that makes it . . . Plymouth makes it.

1970 Sport Fury Brougham.

Here's our luxury model. (One of 28 Fury models with a new wide stance.) It's big enough inside to carry six adults in comfort. It's plush. But the price is still Plymouth. With a front seat that has individual adjustments for the driver and passenger, center armrests, and a reclining back on the passenger's side.

Of course, the carpeting is thick, the headlights are hidden, and the price is still Plymouth.

Whether you like your luxury in small packages, or as big as a 1970 Sport Fury . . . Plymouth makes it.

Alex. N. Washburn
War and Peace:
Gromyko 'Tells
It Like It Is'

Those Americans naive enough to believe their personal opinions have any bearing on the issue of peace or war must have been shocked—if the message actually got through to them—by what the Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, told the United Nations in an hour-long speech at last week's closing session.

Mr. Gromyko was responding to an earlier speech before the UN by President Richard M. Nixon in which the American asked help of Russia on three fronts. Mr. Gromyko replied as follows:

1. Intervene with Hanoi to settle the Vietnam War?—"No."
2. Limit arms shipments in order to head off a new war in the Middle East?—"No."
3. Set a date for starting U. S. - Russian talks on limiting strategic weapons?—No reply by Mr. Gromyko.

The Russian iron fist was masked by a glove of mild words — a warlike stance that should caution "personal opinion" Americans peace is never of one nation's making.

There is a world-wide confrontation between Russia and the United States and far from cloaking it in his speech the Soviet Foreign Minister boasted about it. These are the words of the Associated Press wire report:

"Gromyko said that it would be 'at variance with reality' to expect that the United States could win at the conference table 'what it has failed to achieve with a half-million-strong army on the battlefield, that is, to entrench itself strategically and politically' in Vietnam."

This is double-talk calculated to raise the blood pressure of every American. It was all right for the United States to send its sea power and millions of men into the South Pacific and Asian coastlands to help our ally Russia, as well as ourselves, in World War II—but now it's all wrong for us to support a friendly people against Asian enemies who would railroad us off the coast and out of our South Pacific island bases. We covet no territory whatever—seeking merely to preserve the strategic protection which we bought at great cost in World War II.

But Soviet Russia, a notorious grabber of land and people, today rewards her old ally of World War II with a confrontation.

We could have crushed North Vietnam, as Gromyko well knows, but we elected instead to merely defend South Vietnam. The same holding action must apply to our dealings with the Soviet. We will get as many of our men back from Vietnam as the situation permits, but Russia can expect we will continue to support the South Vietnamese with munitions and money in the future as we have in the past, against land grabbers.

Graves Tells Kiwanians About Law

Attorney Albert Graves took a tongue-in-cheek look at the Law when he spoke to the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at a luncheon meeting in the Town and Country. Stories and anecdotes pertaining to the Mann Act, the Campanelli case, and a book by Robert Abbott kept alive the interest of his audience.

During the business meeting preceding the program, President Benny Coleman read a letter of thanks from the Gulpport (Miss.) Rotary Club for financial aid extended by local Rotarians following Hurricane Camille.

Two visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Grainger Williams of Little Rock and H.E. "Buddy" Schnelle of Marble Falls, Tex.

Despite U.S. Money Nursing Homes Are Lonely Place to Die

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a billion-dollar bonanza from the federal government, America's nursing homes are a stark and lonely place to die.

Abuses in money and medicine, an air of death and despair shadow the aged through the dusk of their days.

Doctors rarely see their patients. Nurses use drugs freely to restrain the elderly. Mental patients are dumped into nursing homes by the thousands. And fraud feeds on the federal dollar.

Through medical and medicare, the government suddenly has taken over financial responsibility for most of the nursing home care in this nation. The taxpayer now pays $2 out of every $3 pouring into private nursing homes.

Profits are healthier than ever. But other ills fester—tough federal regulations have been slower than federal dollars in reaching nursing homes.

For this hidden million Americans, the end can be an empty, grim, even degrading tragedy.

The Associated Press, in an extensive nationwide study of nursing homes, found facts and cases like these:

—In El Granada, Calif., a nursing home operator is accused of stealing a dying patient's savings of $13,000 after she and a lawyer lifted his feeble hand to guide his signature.

Living Cost Has Jumped a Notch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paced by higher costs for food, housing and medical care, the cost of living went up another notch in August, four-tenths of one per cent, the government reported today.

Egg prices went up 20 per cent from July to August.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the demand for eggs and consequent lower supplies reflected a shift from higher priced red meats to eggs.

Rents went up four-tenths of one per cent, the largest monthly increase in 13 years.

The Consumer Price Index rose to 128.7, in August, meaning it cost $12.87 to buy the same goods and services that were bought for $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The August price rise was slightly less than the five-tenths

Tech School Plans Classes for Adults

Basic Adult Education classes are scheduled in Hope and Fulton again this year. The organizational meeting will be held in the Commons Room of Red River Vocational-Technical School at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7, according to Will V. Rutherford, Supervisor, in charge of the program.

Future meeting places for the grades 1 thru 8 classes will be determined at this time. Last year classes were held at Yenger Junior High School and at Fulton, however, Rutherford noted that classes may be held in any of the public schools if there is sufficient enrollment from people in the area.

There is no charge for the course and several business and church organizations are urging that all adults over 16 years of age who have not completed the eighth grade to attend these courses.

5 American Helicopters Shot Down

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops shot down five American helicopters, including three during an infantry assault today on the edge of the Que Son Valley south of Da Nang.

A U.S. spokesman said it was not known immediately how badly the three choppers were damaged.

A fleet of helicopters landed American infantrymen from the 196th Brigade in a hilly area 34 miles south of Da Nang. The men immediately made contact with North Vietnamese troops, triggering a 3 1/2-hour fight.

The U.S. Command said one American was killed and nine wounded, but it could not say whether any of the casualties were in the helicopters shot down or all were in the ground fighting.

Three North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed.

The fighting occurred eight miles east of Hiep Duc, a refugee resettlement town which has been threatened since last

3 Held for Burglary of Store Here

Three Negro men, two from Hope and one from Colorado, have been arrested and charged with the Thursday night burglary of the Hempstead County Farm Store on Division Street.

They were listed as Junior Lee Criner, 30, and Will Arthur McDonald, 26, both of Hope and Glen L. Whitmore, 37, of Colorado. All three are in Hempstead County Jail and will be charged with burglary, officers said.

The store's safe was carried to a rural road near the U of A Experiment Station and broken open. Officers said all but $383 has been recovered. There was an estimated $1,500 in the safe mostly in checks.

The clue that led to the arrests was a piece of a bumper off a car that was used. It was found near the safe. Officers, both City, State and County, worked until they found the auto from which the piece of bumper was broken. Arrests of the trio followed.

Court Upholds Judgment for $110,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court today upheld a $110,000 judgment from Circuit Court in Faulkner County in connection with an accident near the entrance to the Pine Bluff Arsenal Jan. 5, 1968.

A truck-trailer unit operated by Eldon H. Chadwick and owned by the Kincaid Trucking Co. was involved in an accident with an automobile driven by Charles L. Burnett in which a passenger, W.M. Taylor, was killed.

Mrs. Taylor was awarded $5,000. Kenneth J. Taylor $5,000. Lola Taylor $5,000 and the Taylor estate $1,000. Burnett was awarded $25,000.

Silas Kincaid of the trucking company appealed the Circuit Court decision on grounds that Chadwick had finished work for the day and was taking his truck home for the night.

The jury found, however, that the vehicle was still under Kincaid's control in awarding the judgment.

Word Out That Army Is Out of Beef

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A menu item remembered—if not hallowed—by every soldier and veteran will be missing from chow lines next year. Word has come down from the Pentagon that beef stew is out.

The high-level ruling putting beef stew in the military memory bin with jerky and hardtack resulted from two factors—soldiers didn't like it and it cost too much to prepare.

"There has been a reduced demand for diced beef (as the military is wont to call the gooey concoction) over the years because of an increased preference by servicemen for meats in ground form," according to the Defense Personnel Support Center.

And, as Navy Capt. James Warren, head of the Food Service Directorate, put it: beef stew was "just too expensive for what we were getting out of it."

Because military specifications called for cutting the stew meat by hand the price was running over a $1 a pound.

"When you stop to think that it costs well over $3 billion each year to feed the men we now have in uniform, price really becomes important," Capt. Warren said.

Eliminating stew from the mess halls won't mean less meat for the troops. They will get more hamburgers, meatloaf and Salisbury steak-type courses.

Sees Passage of $20 Billion Defense Bill

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Armed Services Committee Chairman L. Mendel Rivers says he expects to have the $20 billion defense spending bill just passed by the Senate on the House floor next week.

Rivers, D-S.C., said he expects to get the mammoth authorization for military hardware including the Safeguard antimissile system out of his committee in three days.

If he succeeds, he'll have it on the floor while House military spending critics are still trying to organize their assault.

Senate critics managed to cut only $79.6 million off the $20 billion authorization before approving it last week after six weeks of debate. Rivers said the House bill will be for $21.347 billion, an addition of $1.4 billion tacked on by Rivers for ships.

"I'm not going to compete with the Senate," he said in an interview. "I'm going to tell the House what I think this country needs and let it vote it up or down."

Most House critics doubt they will succeed in cutting the bill either in the Armed Services Committee or on the floor.

"I'm optimistic we're going to do better than we've ever done before," said Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., a military spending critic. "But the temper of the House is not to overturn the committee's work."

Nedzi's optimism is not that critics will make any cuts in the 435-member House but that they will muster some 100 votes "which is five times what you usually get against a military system in the House."

Nedzi is one of five committee rebels who say they hope to take some $2 billion out of the bill this week before it gets to the floor.

They say their targets include $1.4 billion for ships, $345 million for Safeguard deployment, $533 million for additional C5A cargo planes, and $67 million for the U.S.-German main Battle Tank 70.

Scott Claims Victory as GOP Leader

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With the field down by one, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania is claiming victory and Howard H. Baker Jr. is trying to rally his rival forces as Senate Republicans prepare to elect a new leader this week.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska has pulled out of the contest and endorsed Baker, a first-term Tennessean who hopes to fashion an alliance of moderate to conservative Republicans and newcomers to beat Scott.

One of the conservatives who probably would have backed Hruska, Sen. George Murphy of California, announced Sunday he will vote for Baker. Others are likely to include Sens. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and John Tower of Texas.

Some conservative elders, however, oppose Baker because of his lack of seniority, and thus could be expected to vote for the more liberal Scott despite philosophical differences.

It will take votes from 22 of the 43 Republican senators in Wednesday's election to elect a successor to the late Everett M. Dirksen as Senate minority leader. Scott, who last winter defeated Hruska 23-20 to become party whip now is acting GOP leader.

Hruska dropped from the competition Saturday, apparently unable to build sufficient support for a serious bid. He endorsed Baker as a candidate of "the broad middle ground of Republicanism, neither to the left nor to the right."

But Scott said Hruska's abandoning the race would add votes to his own column, which he already claimed included a majority. In fact, Scott has been talking of Baker among others as candidates for his present job.

Popular Leader in Mexico Dies at 59

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Former President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, one of Mexico's most popular leaders, died today after an illness that left him almost completely paralyzed for more than two years. He was 59.

Lopez Mateos served as president from 1958 to 1964. Only a constitutional ban kept him from a second term in the office.

He first became ill in November 1965, an underwent an operation for a cranial aneurysm. He suffered a stroke on May 30, 1967, and for a time was in a coma.

His chief physician was Dr. James Popen of Boston.

By last May, Lopez Mateos, although able to move only a few parts of his body, was able to sit in a wheel chair to watch sporting events on television. He was a former amateur boxer and soccer player.

British Police Evict Hippies From Mansion

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Police evicted a band of hippies Sunday from the vacant 100-room mansion near Buckingham Palace they had occupied for a week, but the youths said they planned more sit-ins in London and other cities to draw attention to the needs of homeless people.

"We aim to have so many squats the High Courts will be flooded with orders to get us out," said Gabriel Elmi. "We are prepared to go to prison but there are not enough prisons to hold us."

An estimated 400 youths had filled the house in defiance of authorities for six days. Police said they took 100 persons to headquarters. Thirty of them, including three juveniles, were held for a hearing on charges of assault, threatening behavior, theft and possessing drugs.

Among the 42 juveniles taken from the house were 22 girls under the age of 17. Most of them were picked up by parents who had reported them missing.

The battle of No. 144 Piccadilly—the house is at the Hyde Park corner end of the street leading to the hippie gathering place at Piccadilly Circus—began Saturday night when gangs of youths called "skinheads" started fighting with the hippies.

Florida Storm Causes Bridges to Collapse

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Rampaging waters, collapsed bridges and axle-deep mud isolated several sections of Florida's panhandle today in the wake of a storm that spun into the lowlands along the Gulf of Mexico.

Quincy, a city of 9,000 famous for its shade tobacco, was almost completely under water. Quincy is located about 35 miles from the state capital of Tallahassee.

The Florida highway Patrol blocked traffic heading west from Tallahassee on flooded U.S. 9 and State Road 2. That left U.S. 98 on the Gulf coastline as the lone major route open through Florida to Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans.

Three counties—Leon, Gadsden and Liberty—were put off limits for heavy truck travel. Only cars were allowed in and out.

Tallahassee's highlands kept down flooding despite a record 8.86 inches of rain Sunday.

College Students Set 'Now' Fashion Scene

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — America's more than eight million college students may like to think they influence what goes on in politics but there's no argument they have a very loud voice in deciding what goes on our backs.

Students — male and female — have revolutionized the fashion business. One recent example: The shapely legs of coeds and the hearty approval of their young men were key factors in the universal and lasting success of that little cloth necktie known as the miniskirt.

When one's next birthday marks 45 or 50, a microskirt and pantyhose won't make her look 20 again. Nonetheless, fear of being thought square has put thousands of women on a diet kick so that they can fit into the fashions worn on campus by their children.

Fortunately, far greater than the aping of kids by adults has been the influence of campus fashions on young career women ever since the long-go days when a simple loose sweater and a single strand of pearls were the hallmark of the Vassar Girl.

In today's do-your-own-thing, put-yourself-together fashion philosophy, the campus crowds are natural leaders. Kids are imaginative and daring. They'll wear anything for kicks. And often in trying to be individualists they come up with costumes that make them trendsetters instead.

The mod look was pioneered in America by students. It had a paradoxical charm — demure yet sexy. And the kids were a delight to see in their short, short dresses that looked as though they had been sewed up by mother's loving hands. Soon it was seen in every office.

The wet look, the pants suit, the currently popular cape all started on the university campus. Even the hippie lasses with their long dresses and strings of beads had a hand in the revival of the peasant look.

A version of the long great coat, poor boy sweater and pants, long a familiar sight around some American universities, were shown as new recently in the hallowed halls of St. Laurent's Paris salon.

No one can argue that the unisex fashion game, long before it was dubbed by its intriguing name, was played on campus. And those long woolen scarves that were once worn for comfort and color accents at universities in cold climates are now fashion "status" symbols all over the lot.

Among the fashions that are sure to filter through the university gates to the secretary's closet this season are chain belts, wider than ever, worn with pants and sweaters and even topped by fur or fake fur boleros for a Spanish flavor.

Big, fringed and printed plaid pants will dress up sleeveless black slip-type dresses.

The maxi-coat in leather-like fabric trimmed with fake curly lamb will keep the breeze off miniskirted knees.

Plaid pants and capes or ponchos of bright blanketing will turn up in profusion.

The small knitted caps and the long, V-neck sweater of the '30s are back to stay for a while.

Don't overlook the jumpsuit—the perfect base for this do-your-own-thing season.

Wear it under a long tunic for day. Deck it out with neck chains and a short, swinging skirt for evenings.

According to a recent survey the college freshman market for wearing apparel totals $309 million.

When one group spends that much money on clothes, it seems only fitting it should dictate fashion.

Natalie Leads the Good, Young Life

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Marriage a la Hollywood. You both put your Academy Award nomination plaques — laminated — over the wet bar. It's cozy.

Natalie Wood is now Mrs. Richard Gregson. Their plaques — hers for acting, his for writing — hang side by side. His children come over from England for their holiday. When they're not here, they write:

"Dear Daddy and Nat."

They ask about the dogs. They ask about the new kitten.

Gregson became an agent after his early writing career. Now he's trying it as a producer. They want to be together, which is normal. Natalie figures she'll only take acting jobs which coincide with his geographical location.

But the problem is he isn't sure where he'll be, here or London. They have houses both places. So, for the time being, she isn't working. She hasn't done anything since "Bob & Ted & Carol and Alice," if I remember the title swingers in the correct order.

She says, despite the rumors and the early reviews, this isn't a wife-swapping story. That plays a part, but only a part.

"It's more a commentary on today's morals," she says.

Today's morals. What does a modern girl movie star think of today's morals?

"Obviously," Nat says, "I believe in the institution of marriage, since I just got married. But a great deal of what the kids say today has a certain validity to it."

What things?

"Oh, like if a young person has parents who get drunk all the time, how can he believe them when they tell him pot is bad?"

"Or if a child's parents have affairs on the side, how can he believe them when they tell him to believe in the sanctity of marriage?"

It's hard to keep talking seriously with Natalie Wood. She's a bright, cheerful girl. The laughter is always there, just a wink below the surface. Life, she seems to be saying, is good. She radiates happiness.

"I'm having a delayed childhood. I worked so hard when I was a kid. I never had a chance to play."

Now she's making up for lost time. She was in Switzerland, when Gregson worked on "The Downhill Racers" with Bob Redford. She learned to ski there. Now she's learning to play tennis. She practices every day with Redford's wife, Lola. She says she is pretty good on skis, but not so hot on the tennis court.

It isn't all physical, this delayed youth. She's gone back to education. She's learning to speak French. (She still speaks Russian fluently, because her parents are Russian.) And a smattering of Spanish. But she wants to master French since she may be spending time in Europe with Gregson.

She's also being a good wife and doing little things for her husband. Like typing. She studied in school and got to be pretty good. So, when they quick needed another copy of "The Downhill Rac-

Houston Gives Florida a Real Licking

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cougars from Houston, where the space center is located, visited Florida and must have thought they were at Cape Kennedy, the way the rockets were going off—against them.

The launch paid Saturday at Gainesville as the University of Florida shocked seventh ranked Houston 59-34, on the college football season's first big day was the arm of sophomore quarterback John Reaves.

Reaves complete 18 of 30 passes for a school record 342 yards and five touchdowns in leading what his coach, Ray Graves, called "about the most inspired offense I have seen in my 10 years at Florida."

The main recovery area for Reaves' rockets was end Carlos Alvarez, who caught six passes, two for touchdowns.

While Reaves was passing away Sunday afternoon, another quarterback went on a running spree. Bill Montgomery rambled for three touchdowns as second-ranked Arkansas rolled over Oklahoma State 39-0.

Seven other members of the Top Ten in the Associated Press' pre-season poll won easily. No. 1 Ohio State, the defending national champion, opens its season next Saturday.

Third-ranked Penn State walloped Navy 45-22, breaking the ers' script, she stayed up all night and batted it out.

Then, recently, Herb Ross was in a bind for some girl to help Bruce Friedman with the revisions of his script for "The Owl and the Pussycat." He told Gregson. He said, "Have I got a girl for you!" And sent Nat around, and she did it.

Between one thing and another, she keeps busy. It's a good life for a young girl.

game up with three touchdowns during a 3½-minute span in the third quarter.

No. 4 Texas downed California 17-0 behind the running of Steve Worster, Ted Koy and sophomore Jim Bertelsen.

Clarence Davis, replacing the graduated C. J. Simpson, rushed for 114 yards and sophomore Jimmy Jones threw two scoring strikes in leading fifth-ranked Southern California over Nebraska 31-21.

Sixth-ranked Oklahoma trounced Wisconsin 48-21 in a game dominated by the running of Wisconsin's Alan "A Train" Steve Owens. Thompson charged to a Wisconsin record of 220 yards while Owens ripped off 189—a record 10th consecutive game in which he had gained more than 100.

Bruce Kemp scored three times as Georgia, No. 8, blanked Tulane 35-0; Mississippi, No. 9, took Memphis State 28-3 despite 333 yards passing by the losers, and 10th ranked Missouri squeezed by the Air Force 19-17 when Henry Brown kicked his fourth field goal of the game with 15 seconds left.

Notre Dame, No. 11, fell behind Northwestern 10-0, then stormed back to win 35-10.

In other games, Michigan State, No. 12, beat Washington 27-11; 13th-ranked Alabama edged Virginia Tech 17-13. No. 14 Indiana outlasted Kentucky 58-30 at Harry Gonso completed 23 of 28 passes; Tennessee, No. 15, trounced Chattanooga 31-0; 16th-ranked Stanford blasted San Jose State 63-21 as Jim Plunkett hit on 13 of 15 passes for 227 yards and two touchdowns.

UCLA, No. 17, whipped Pittsburgh 42-8; No. 18 Purdue got by Texas Christian 42-35; Minnesota, No. 19, was topped 48-26 by Arizona State as the winners' Joe Spagnola passed for over 400 yards and three touchdowns, and No. 20 Auburn drubbed Wake Forest 57-0.

on a legal paper.

—A suburban New York City nursing home billed Medicare for nearly $400,000 for physical therapy in one year. When the government tried to recoup part of the money by suspending Medicare payments, the nursing home discharged all its Medicare patients.

—Some physicians, dentists, X-ray firms and other medical specialists have been accused by Senate investigators of making profitable "mass visits" to nursing homes where patients are plentiful. Records show one doctor who operates his own nursing home in Jefferson, Tex., billed Medicare last year for 4,560 visits to just 54 patients.

—For the most part, however, doctors' care in many nursing homes across the country is so scarce that it is a national scandal. In one large home in Topeka, Kan., a survey showed three-fourths of the patients checked had not been seen by a doctor in at least half a year.

—Tranquilizers, sedatives and other drugs are used in abundance to keep patients quiet. Doctors agree to prescriptions over the telephone to nursing homes without examining their patients. One Michigan woman was thought to be speechless for two years until a new doctor stopped the sedatives and found she could talk.

—Nursing homes have become warehouses for elderly mental patients that state hospitals turn down or turn out. Few homes have any hint of psychiatric care, and most use drugs — or keep the patients belted in chairs. A woman who spent almost 50 years in a mental hospital now sits and stares in a Detroit nursing home, tied in a chair.

—Regular hospitals, faced with serious overcrowding, sometimes discharge hopeless cases and ship them to nursing homes to die. An American Medical Association spokesman said, "I know it sounds harsh, but a hospital serves no purpose for these patients."

Nearly a million people are confined to the nation's 23,000 nursing homes and other homes for the aged. Most are past 75. And most are senile or mentally confused, their minds fuzzy with the cobwebs that come with old age.

The old are also the poor. And because of this, the federal government has made nursing homes a rich business.

Medicaid, the vast federal-state program that pays the health costs for the poor, now pumps more than $1.1 billion a year into private nursing homes.

Other federal programs, including Medicare which pays for brief stays in nursing homes after leaving a hospital, raise the total outlay by the taxpayer to $1.6 billion—more than two-thirds of all the money that nursing homes took in last year.

About 90 per cent of the nation's nursing homes are run for profit. And with the government now paying for care that the old and needy couldn't afford before, business is booming.

The president of Four Seasons, one of the biggest and best nursing home chains, has reported an anticipated annual pretax profit of $1,000 a bed.

The owners of one rural home in Tennessee reached that profit figure on welfare payments of less than $2,000 a year per bed, a hospital official said.

More than 50 nursing home chains have burst onto the stock market in the past two years as prices soared. Four Seasons went on sale last year at $11 a share. Now its stock is selling at $60, and that's after a 2-for-1 split.

The big boom has built hundreds of new nursing homes, with shining equipment, soft carpets and smiling administrators, to replace the fetid, faded boarding houses of a past era.

Real efforts are being made today at recreation and physical rehabilitation. Many homes attempt therapy programs. The facilities are cleaner, more modern, more attractive. And there has not been a disastrous nursing home fire for nearly five years.

But the better carpeting does not always mean better care.

In the money-minded world of big business, profits can depend on keeping the basic cost of medical care as cheap as possible.

"You tighten up on nurses—fewer nurses, less care, said a small Los Angeles chain's nursing home administrator, who didn't want to be identified.

"And if you've got too a short staff, you keep the patient snowed on drugs," said Los Angeles public health official.

In Minneapolis, a random check of a nursing home's medicine cabinet found 8 of the first 10 patients were getting either thioridazine or chlorpromazine hydrochloride, two of the most popular tranquilizers which leave patients drowsy, listless and easy to handle.

"There is nothing that is so horrible and terrifying to older people than to think they might end their days in a nursing home," said a 74-year-old Philadelphia widow. "They pray to get sick on Tuesday and die on Wednesday."

A psychologist at the University of Chicago, Dr. Morton S. Lieberman, has found in studies that fear and shock may actually hasten death for the nursing home patient.

In comparing elderly patients on the waiting list for a home for the aged both before and after their admission, Dr. Lieberman found the death rate more than doubled upon entrance into the home.

He said, "They're right—it is a death trap—even in the homes that try."

One Killed on State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An Associated Press count shows that only one person was killed in traffic accidents on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period.

The death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police identified the victim as Mildred Nugent, 16, of Sherida. She was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding collided with another car about one mile north of Grapevine on Arkansas 35. Six other persons were injured in the crash.

The information to be compiled from the survey will be used to attract new industry and business to the county. Such information is one of the vital first steps to interesting new prospects to move to the county.

The Employment Security Division plans to mail survey forms to every household in the county. Every person, age 16 years and older, will be asked to complete one of the questionnaire forms. The forms ask such questions as age, sex, marital status, work experience, income levels and health needs.

The latter information on health needs will be used to plan any needed new health facilities in the area.

The forms will be self-addressed and will not require a stamp for residents to return.

A number of local people have volunteered to assist anyone in completing the questionnaires. Among these volunteers are:

of one per cent from June to July. It meant that the annual rate of increase is 4.8 per cent, compared to the 6 per cent annual rate reflected in the June-July increase.

Whoever, Chase told a news conference "The August prices seem to indicate no significant change from what we've been experiencing the last few months."

Chase added: "The chances are that food prices will climb less sharply in the coming months."

He said that it was encouraging that the cost of living was not going up any more sharply, but he wouldn't draw any further conclusions.

So far this year retail prices have increased by 4 per cent, compared to 3.1 per cent in the first eight months of 1968. Food prices in August were 5.7 per cent more than in the same month of 1968.

Charges for consumer services went up seven-tenths of one per cent, led by significant increases for mortgage interest, property taxes, residential gas and electricity rates and home repair services.

20 Killed in Plane Crash in Mexico

By STRATFORD C. JONES
Associated Press Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP)

Swampy ground off the end of a runway at Mexico City's International Airport probably saved the lives of many of the passengers aboard a Mexicana Airlines jet that crashed Sunday as it was landing after a flight from Chicago.

The Boeing 727 was carrying 111 passengers, many of them U.S. tourists bound for Mexico City and Acapulco, and a crew of seven.

The count of the dead and injured varied widely. An Associated Press newsman saw 15 bodies laid out on a hill 20 yards from the wreckage. Another newsman said there were nine bodies on the other side of the plane.

Other sources said from 17 to 20 persons were killed, but one spokesman for the airline said more than 40 persons were dead.

Another spokesman for the line said 102 persons had been taken to hospitals. A check of all hospitals turned up only 53 admitted, five of them in critical condition.

One official said the plane apparently hit a railroad embankment that rises about 10 feet above a marsh 3,000 feet west of the runway.

The plane broke into three sections but did not catch fire. The nose section embedded itself in the swamp, burying the cockpit crew.

Many passengers in the second section were thrown out by the impact and landed in waist-deep water and mud. Some waded to a wing of the plane and waited for rescuers.

One survivor was Olay Danielson of Gates Mills, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb. He said: "We were coming in for what seemed like a normal landing over the lake. Then we started to make an unusual descent unlike any I have ever experienced. Then we hit very hard. The plane turned over or so it seemed to me."

Stewardess Graciela Flores Alvarado, who was thrown clear, said the plane started to vibrate violently as it approached the runway, "then it fell."

Another survivor, Pauline Hartzell, 21, of Milwaukee, Wis., said: "We were descending rapidly and I thought we were landing. But suddenly we were bumping along kind of funny and then we were on the ground. I remember walking out on a wing ... but I just can't recall precisely what happened."

Miss Hartzell, who was not hurt, said she was with 60 members of a club on a vacation trip to Mexico City and Acapulco.

A newlywed couple, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Charlton of Wheeling, Ill., were among those who escaped with minor injuries.

Two other newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of Chicago, were reported in serious condition.

Some passengers were trapped in their seats and rescuers had to use blow torches to free them.

It was raining slightly at 5:29 p.m. when the crash occurred, a few moments after the plane had been cleared to land. The mud and water made the wreckage area difficult to reach.

Rescue teams, officials and newsmen waded through mud and water up to their waists and deeper, carrying stretchers with dead and injured on their shoulders. Many tied handkerchiefs over their noses and mouths to keep from choking on swarms of black gnats.

As night fell, a television station appealed for persons with portable lighting equipment. Helicopters lifted out some of the injured and also hovered overhead to help illuminate the rescue work.

The crash was the second of a Mexicana jet in four months. On June 4 a domestic flight crashed in Monterrey, killing all 79 aboard including Mexican tennis star Rafael Osuna.

Mixed Crowd at Forrest City Rally

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—A racially mixed crowd of more than 1,000 turned out here Sunday for a rally during which they were told they must seek direction and leadership.

Speakers classified those who attended the rally as the "middle 80" per cent of Forrest City.

Francis Vandiver, a businessman and president of the city's Chamber of Commerce, told the crowd that the "middle 80" were those who were caught between "the five per cent on the right who resist any change in our way of life and the five per cent on the left who say go faster toward change."

He urged the 90 per cent to become interested and aware that "our future is at stake."

"We must support our local leadership and we must be firm and stand together," he said.

Forrest City businessmen and clergymen who have become concerned about events in their city sponsored the rally, which was held at the Forrest City High School football field.

Ministers of various denominations were on the speakers' platform.

The Rev. Emory Washington of Forrest City, a Negro who Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has appointed to the state Board of Education, told the crowd that "if we had taken a different attitude several weeks ago we wouldn't have this problem."

The Rev. Clyde Hankins, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Forrest City, asked the group, "Are there those of us who are stupid and selfish that we are willing to destroy our town?"

"Let us remember that it takes but a tiny spark to set off an explosion," he said.

Vandiver said those present at the rally represented "the vast majority of the community."

"You are the people that the rest of the city, the state and, yes, even the nation have not heard from yet," he said. "You are the people that need to draw back from any disturbance and let your elected

Jury Called to Probe Cell Death

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)—A pointsett County Grand Jury is to be empaneled Oct. 2 to head evidence in connection with the death of a man who was found dead Sept. 2 in a cell of the county jail.

Sheriff Ray Holmes said Saturday the Grand Jury previously was to have been empaneled Oct. 6, but that a change in dates was made because several key witnesses couldn't be available to testify at that time.

Merle Morgan, 33, of near Harrisburg was found dead in the cell a day after he was arrested on charge of public drunkenness, resisting arrest, assault and battery and disturbing the peace.

Authorities said Morgan was taken the night of Sept. 1 to a Harrisburg hospital when officers became alarmed because he hadn't regained consciousness, but he was released to the officers after an examination by a physician. Morgan apparently died in the cell early the next day.

An autopsy has been conducted by Dr. Rodney Carlton, state medical examiner.

public servants function for you in their respective positions.

"This is as it should be," he said. "However, there comes a time when, as in these past few months, our public officials, the personnel of all our governmental agencies and our school officials and our teachers have had to make countless decisions of great depth, have had to accept change in practically every area of our society and all of these changes have come at a fast rate."

month by two regiments of the North Vietnamese 3rd Division. In two weeks of heavy fighting in the area last month, the U.S. Command reported 76 Americans and up to 1,000 North Vietnamese killed.

The other two American helicopters shot down were destroyed and raised to 3,040 the total of U.S. helicopters reported lost in Vietnam.

One of them, a small Army observation helicopter, was downed last Friday about 12 miles west of where the three troop-carrying helicopters were hit Monday, the U.S. Command said. Three Americans were wounded.

An Army Cobra gunship was downed in Thua Thien province Sunday 26 miles northwest of Da Nang, wounding one man aboard.

The South Vietnamese government reported that Viet Cong terrorists raided two refugee camps in Quang Ngai Province early Saturday and killed 19 persons, including eight members of the family of a national policeman.

Eleven other civilians or militiamen were wounded in the attacks, about 100 miles south of Da Nang.

North Vietnamese soldiers surprised American infantrymen who had just dug shallow foxholes Sunday night along a ridge line 92 miles southeast of Da Nang and blasted them with heavy mortar and rifle fire.

Eleven Americans were killed and 10 others wounded. U.S. headquarters said enemy losses were not known.

The U.S. infantrymen from the Americal Division's 11th Brigade had set up a circular night bivouac with claymore mines placed outside the perimeter, but no barbed wire was strung.

A division spokesman said first reports indicated the perimeter had not been penetrated. He said most of the casualties were caused by the barrage of 45 mortar shells.

After the shelling, Army helicopter and Air Force gunships raked the suspected North Vietnamese positions.

Scattered fighting was reported elsewhere across South Vietnam.

You'll have a hard time finding a wagon as easy to get into as a 1970 Chevrolet.

Try it sometime. Climb into any other wagon, then climb into one of ours. Chevrolet wins in a walk: With a dual-action door that swings open without any jutting hinges. With a rubbered stair built right into the bumper. With a roof that slants thoughtfully forward so you won't hit your head. We've got eight models this year, all with an Anti-theft steering column lock, steel side guard beams. Full Coil suspension. Body by Fisher, Engines by Chevy. And an awful lot of room. Look into a walk-in at your Chevrolet dealer's soon.

Hot Seat Headed For Scrap Heap?

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

OSKING, N.Y. (NEA)—One of the nation's anti-theses is passing from the scene—at least temporarily. The electric chair at Sing Sing prison is due to be removed.

Ostensibly, the framed and feared death implement is giving way to progress. Not a social progress. Material progress. A super highway is to be constructed through what is now the Sing Sing death house.

Thus, officials say, the chair is not being abandoned but merely being moved to a new location.

There is a slight possibility the chair may yet wind up in a museum or garbage heap. New York correction authorities say the matter is "somewhat" flexible. No timetable has been set for reconstruction. The present warden at Sing Sing says, "Nobody's told me anything yet. I don't even know where the chair's going."

The chair is supposed to be going to Greenhaven Prison, where a new state death house is to be built.

But a debate is looming. For one thing, it would cost money to renew the chair's efficiency. And many people feel this is senseless, especially since New York state has only one man on death row—long-time prisoner Armando Cossantine—and has present laws which prohibit capital punishment (except in police deaths).

So, says one critic, a member of the New York-based Citizens Against Legalized Murder, "Why spend the money? The death penalty is dead, or dying. The nation hasn't had a legal execution for two years. New York hasn't had one since 1963. The Sing Sing chair is a relic of the past."

Relic indeed. The Sing Sing chair was first used on July 7, 1891, to kill a con-nanced Harris Smiler. And since then its history has been almost synonymous with the American way of execution.

Wilfred E. Denno
"I never got used to it."

One man who remembers some of this history is Wilfred Denno. He was the Sing Sing warden for 17 years—and officiated at 67 electrocutions.

Says he:

"Well, I never got used to it. It was my job and my responsibility, but it was a bad part of it. I'd have to visit them (the condemned) from time to time, in their cells, and I got to know most of them fairly well. And I guess I always found myself hoping that something would happen, that their appeal would come through or something."

Warden Denno, now retired, says he used to hold the executions on Thursdays, usually about 10 p.m. He says, "The before dawn stuff made it look too secret." Evening time was best to gather witnesses; and Thursday, a working day, was best to contact the governor—"just in case."

"The executions weren't much like you see in the movies," Denno explains. "I mean, I didn't have any direct line to the governor or anything. But I always checked with him, the day of the execution—always."

"The chair is made out of wood. It's an oversized thing. And the condemned man would be led to it by the deputy warden. Then an electrode would be put on his leg and a plate over his head."

"The executions were carried out exactly the same every time. The current was opened to 2,000 volts for three seconds, then dropped to 500 volts for 57 seconds. And the process was repeated once more."

"It always looked to some witnesses as if it took two current waves, and a couple of minutes, to kill the prisoners. But this isn't true. The initial shock of 2,000 volts—between 8 and 10 amps—kills."

"I feel we executed them instantaneously, in the most humane method known to man. Doctors tell me the man felt no pain because the shock is given so fast that such sensation can't be physically recorded."

But humanitarian though it may be, Warden Denno says he would not be saddened if the Sing Sing chair eventually went the way of the pressing stone.

He isn't ashamed of his part in the executions. He didn't make the laws, arrest the criminals, nor pass sentence of death upon them.

But:

"Condemned men are human beings, like anyone else. I tried to be as impersonal as I could toward them. But it's impossible. You can't help feeling sorry for a man who's going to die in the chair."

'Viking' Explains Gravity Of Antarctic Adventure

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—A modern-day Viking—red beard and all—is spending six months at UCLA, getting ready to spend a year at the South Pole.

Erik Syrtstad, a 25-year-old Norwegian, will leave Los Angeles in November, fly to New Zealand and then to the Amundsen-Scott research station in the Antarctic. For the next 12 months, he will babysit with a sophisticated new device.

"That is the meter," Syrtstad said, pointing to an aluminum box about the size of an upended orange crate.

meter registers, scientists hope to learn more about the interior of this planet.

Syrtstad's job will be to see that the meter works and that its data is being properly transferred to recorders. The facts and figures will be sent back to the geological laboratory at UCLA, where computers will analyze and interpret them.

What he has been learning here, under the guidance of Prof. Louis B. Slichter of UCLA's Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics, is to maintain the meter, the recorder and the connective links between the two.

"If everything works," he says, "my job will be easy. I'll take a lot of books with me. And I hope there will be some physical work, like shoveling snow."

He says the South Pole is the ideal place to measure tides because there is less fluctuation and, hence, the measurement can be more precise.

He's itching to go. He believes he knows his job now, and he's ready, physically and mentally.

Pro Charts

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN

NFL East: Capitol Division Washington Redskins

Vince Lombardi

PROSPECTUS—Miracles are order of day. After all, Lombardi era has dawned. With slimmed-down Jurgensen, new pep, etc., but that same old defense. Even Great One needs the horses, like he had in Green Bay. Maybe Skins are now knocking under, but in exhibitions they weren't bowling people over. Vince recognized couple of glaring deficiencies, like running backs. Give him year's grace.

PASSING—Sonny Jurgensen still rides along on rep as fastest arm in East—or West. Vince even found out he was savvy QB. Of course, he should know something at age 35. But Sonny's got to ride range alone—Gary Beban pooped out as QB, and Harry Theofilides is last resort. Look for backup trade. Rating—A—

RECEIVING—Beautiful. Should make Lombardi over into pass-stressing coach. Charley Taylor could be best in game if he concentrates; even Bobby Mitchell's found new spring in legs. Pat Richter's grabbing hold at tight end. And Jerry Smith, sans mod hair, could be best swing receiver in game at either wide or tight end. Got ex-Packer Bob Long for insurance as wide man. Rating—A—

RUNNING—Terrible. Going back to such journeyman as Gerry Allen, A. D. Whitfield, who aren't big or fast. Even trying defender Dick Smith and picked up Henry Dyer for look. Rookie Larry Brown could sneak into heavy work. Ray MacDonald, body beautiful but plunging bust, is another possibility when comes off injured list. Rating—D—

LINE—Not bad. Nothing to get ecstatic about either. It's a start, though, to have all-pro type like Len Hauss at center. Guards Vince Promuto, John Wooten should know fundamentals after combined 21-years experience. Look for young Willie Banks to push Wooten. Tackles Jim Snowden, Walter Rock capable enough, with Mitch Johnson as relief. Lombardi's prodding could bring out best in Snowden. Rating—B—

DEFENSE

LINE—There's no problem of getting adequate pass rush. Comes down to old Carl Kammerer at end. Emphasizing youthful look inside, with Spain Musgrave, Frank Bosch because long-time incumbent Joe Rutgens still has back trouble. Dennis Crane, another kid, could step in at tackle. There could be other changes yet. Rating—B—

SECONDARY—Lacked up by addition of Tom Brown from Packers to play strong safety, paired with Big Owens (or Rickie Harris). Spirited Pat Fischer finds new running mate on corner in Mike Bass. Also drafted Gene Eggs for secondary duty. Rating—B—

KICKING—Lombardi doesn't like to keep two specialists, but has no kick with either Mike Bragg as punter or Charley Gogolak as soccer-style kicker (though Pat Richter could punt in pinch, too). Rating—B—

Prediction

Second in Capitol Division. Until maestro gets miracles organized.
